

NEW URBANISM FILM FESTIVAL

City Stories on the Silver Screen

October 19-22, Los Angeles

This is our fifth year hosting this unique film festival that takes the conversation about urban planning out of the classroom and beyond the council chamber doors and onto the big screen.

Join us for four days of movies about people from all over the world who are making their neighborhood a better place. After each screening, we will have local urbanists interpret the lessons of the film and how we can apply them to our own neighborhoods here in Los Angeles

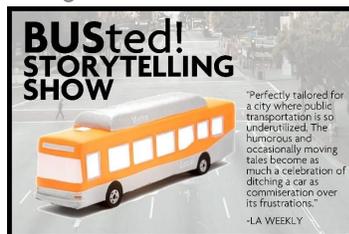

Thursday, October 19th

7:30pm Tactical Urbanism Short Films $20

Pop-up parks, temporary bike lanes, re-use retail, mobile gardening, impromptu parking space, musical parklets, and public pianos: tactical urbanism is a grassroots movement of homegrown urbanists rethinking the built environment to better serve their community.

9:30pm BUSTed $5

This fun storytelling show returns to the fest for its fourth year. The show is always a fun evening with plenty of shared stories about the trials and tribulations of riding public transit in the city of angels.

Friday, October 20th

7:30pm Transportation Short Films $15

How can we reimagine the public space of the street to make sure everyone feels safe, bicyclists, pedestrians, drivers, and transit riders? See examples from all over the world about what cities and individuals are doing to make transportation the backbone of their community.

9:30pm Street Art Short Films $12

Hear stories of street artists from LA, DC, the Bronx, and how their passion and hope for their neighborhood is reflected in their art.

Saturday, October 21st

12:00pm The Longest Straw $12

Filmmaker Samantha Bode spent sixty-five days backpacking the 338 mile path of the Los Angeles Aqueducts and Mono Extension. Along the way, she speaks with community leaders and residents of Los Angeles, the Owens Valley and Mono Basin to gain a deeper understanding of the effects of water importation on ecology, economy, and society, as well as the future of local water sources for Los Angeles.

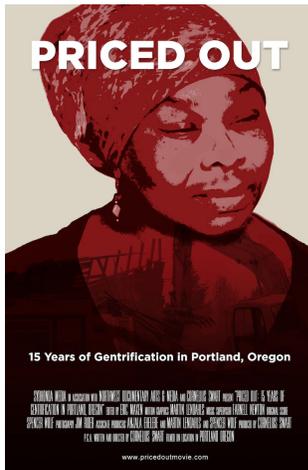

Saturday, October 21st

2:00pm Bicycle Revolution $12

From Hanoi, to Nijmegen, to Los Angeles, individuals are discovering that bicycles, although a solitary vehicle, can solve regional challenges of congestion, pollution, apathy, and social divisions.

3:45 Priced Out $12

"Priced Out" explores the complexities of gentrification and the future of American cities. At a time of skyrocketing racial and class tensions in America, "Priced Out" is an investigative and personal look at how housing prices are displacing Portland's black community and working families all across the city.

5:30 Tony – The Movie $15

When Tony ends up homeless after losing his job as a waiter in San Diego, he is faced with the daily struggles of life on the streets. His search for housing begins, but then turns into a quest for solutions to homelessness, not just for himself, but for thousands people living on the streets across the county. The investigation takes him to the top levels of government locally, but also to regions across the country where progress is being made. What do communities do to significantly reduce homelessness? What is happening in San Diego? And does Tony find housing?

7:30 Urban Design Short Films & CNUCAL Awards $20

The short films in this time slot will showcase urban design practices that shape communities.

9:30 What's the Worst Building in Los Angeles? $10

Eight comedians perform hilarious roasts of the eight ugliest buildings in Los Angeles. Only one can be "The Worst!" The audience and a panel of judges will determine the 2017 Worst Building in Los Angeles!

Sunday, October 22nd
1:45pm Columbus $15

Casey lives with her mother in a little-known Midwestern town haunted by the promise of modernism. Jin, a visitor from the other side of the world, attends to his dying father. Burdened by the future, they find respite in one another and the architecture that surrounds them.
